HIGH SCHOOL

In 1931 the first students entered this building; now in 1966 the last senior class graduates. As this class bids a regretful farewell, the Penn Quill Staff of 1966 invites the reader on a tour of this building which is enriched by memories and traditions. It is also our purpose to revive certain aspects of the past 35 years. Throughout this book we occasionally contrast the activities of the past and the present life at William Penn.

As we depart from our school, with both pride and regret, let us take its past and its present depicted herein and from these inspirations establish our places in the future.

"Build thee more stately mansions,

O my soul,

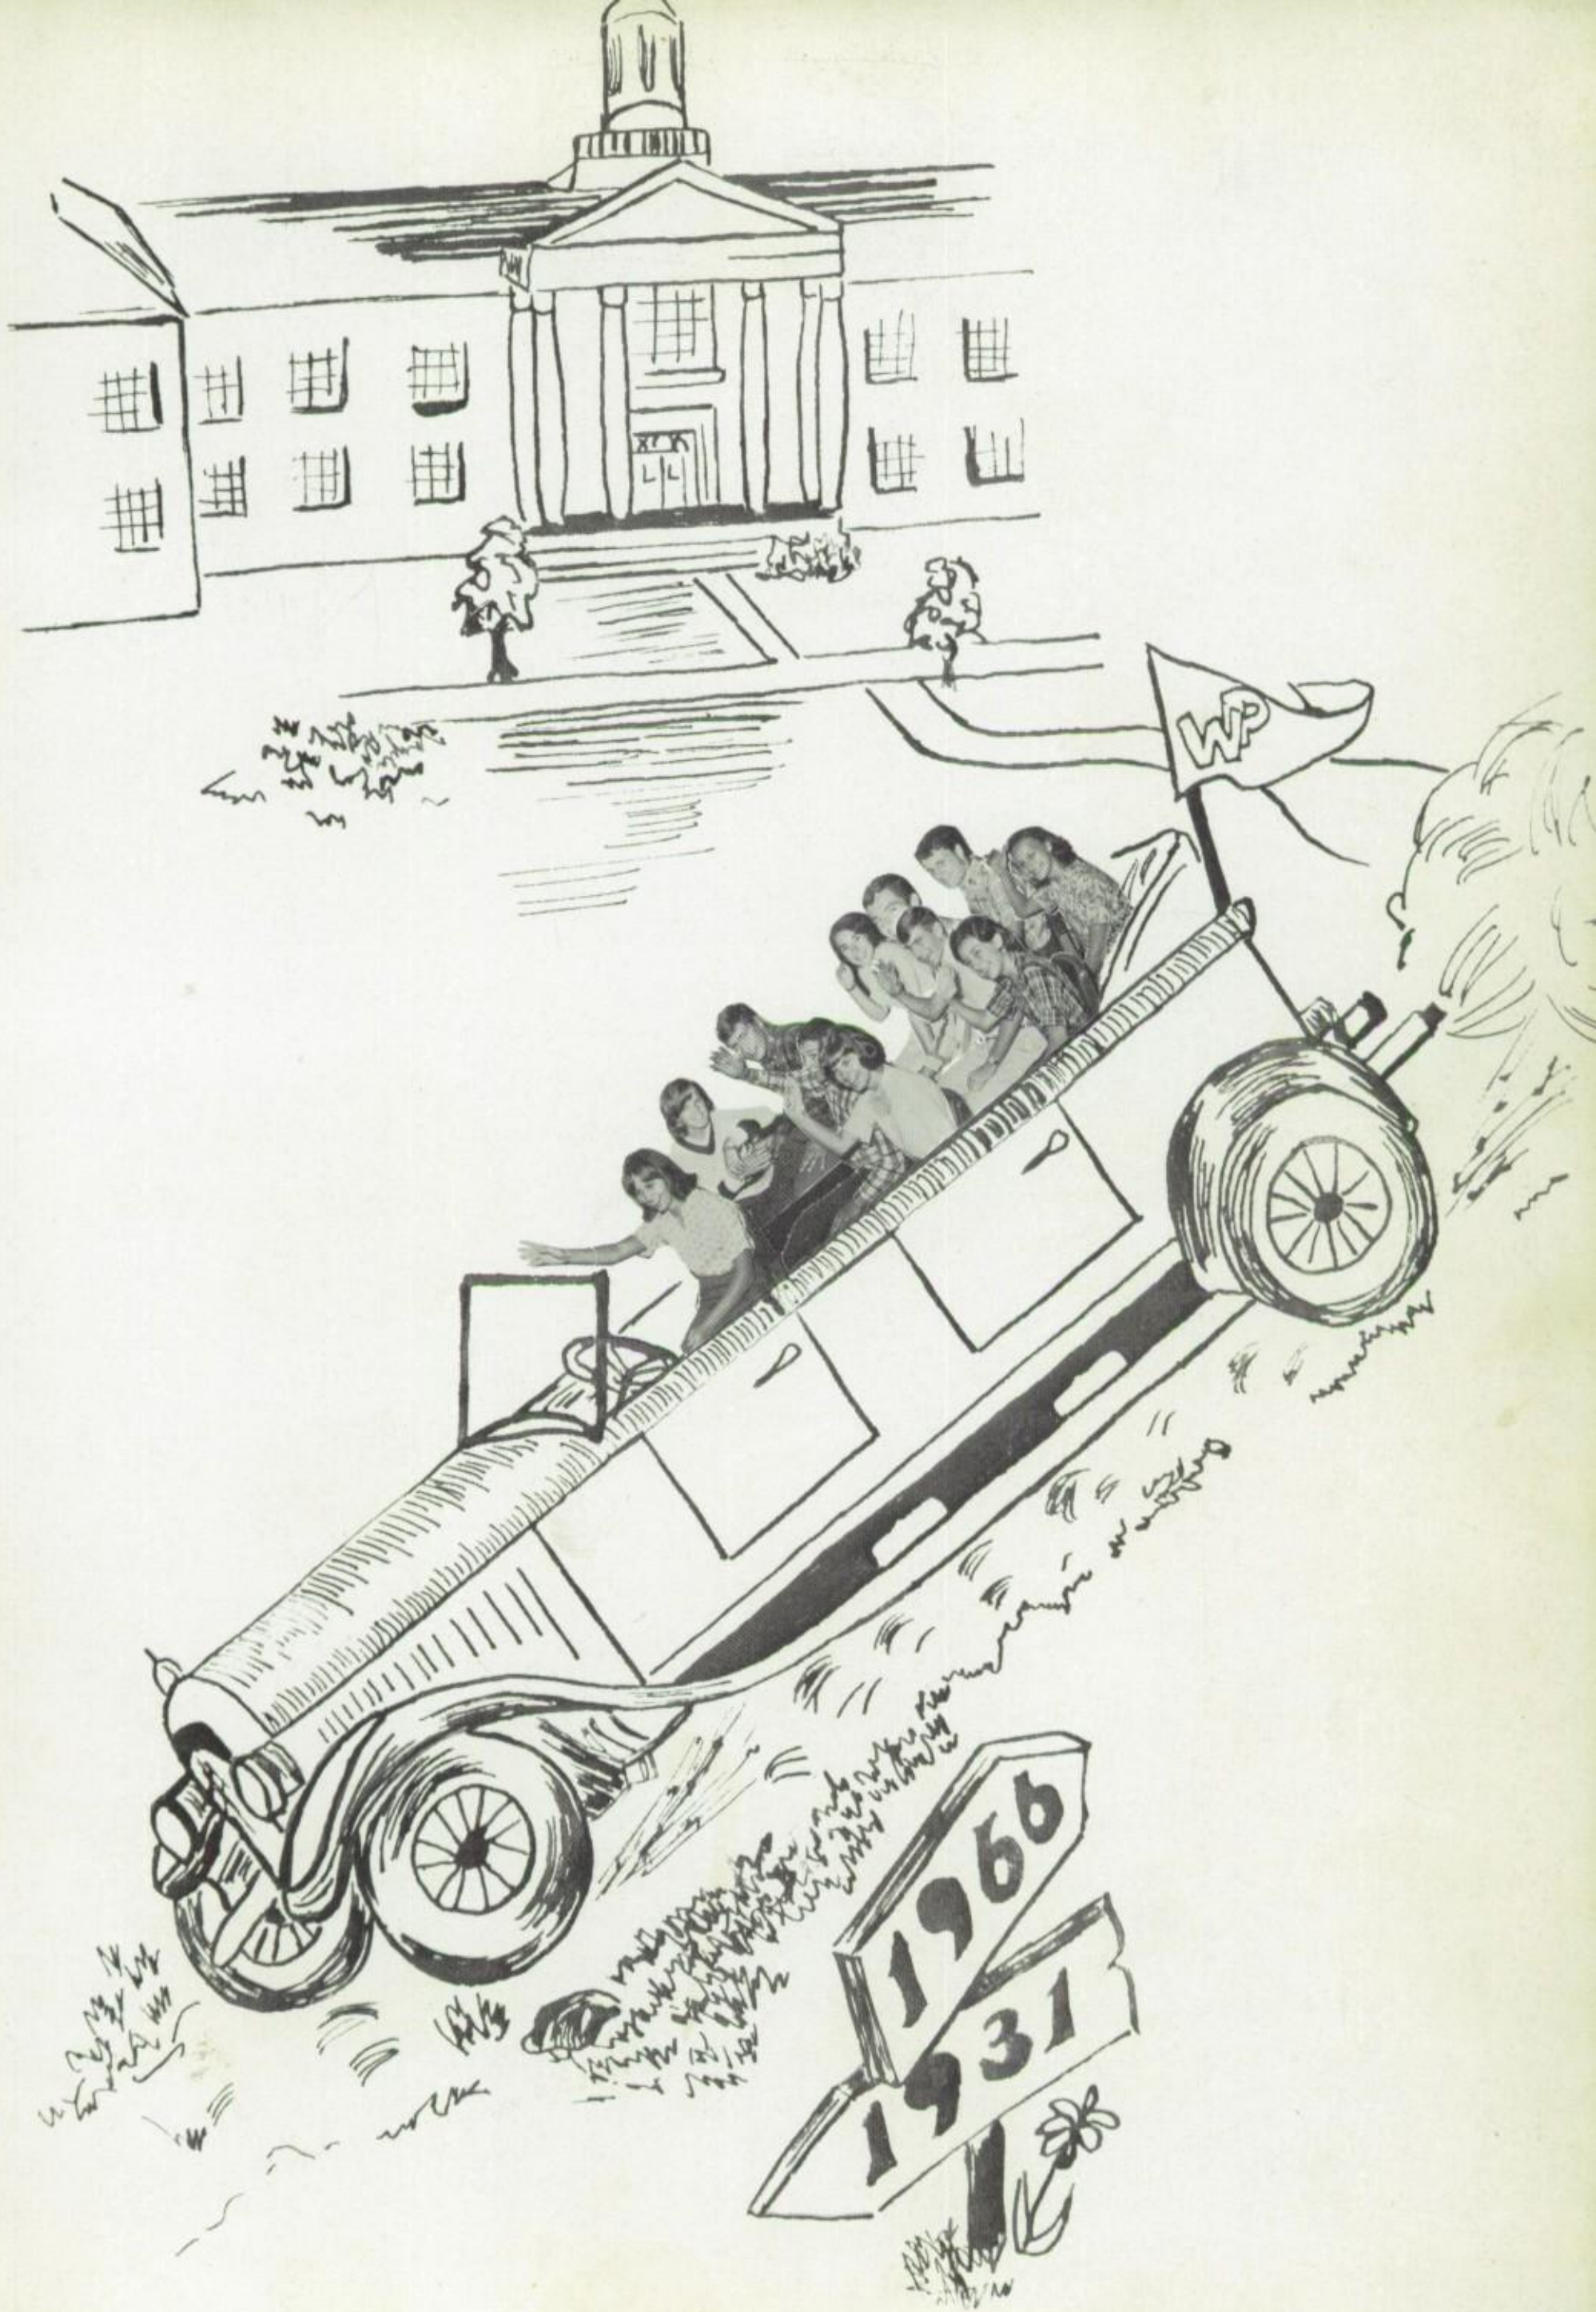

As the swift seasons roll!"

DEDICATION

MR. CHARLES E. SMITH

During the past twenty-five years, William Penn High School has been fortunate to have an excellent administration. The key to this success has been Mr. Charles E. Smith, whose entire professional career is connected with this district. Therefore, it is to him that we proudly dedicate this Penn Quill.

Mr. Smith began his teaching career as a mathematics and science teacher at the Arsenal in 1928. In 1936 he became the principal of William Penn.

A graduate of Washington College, Mr. Smith received his Masters Degree from Duke University in 1940. He continued his graduate work at the Universities of Delaware, Virginia, and New York.

Mr. Smith is an active member of the New Castle Methodist Church, the Chairman of the Official Board, and the Assistant Superintendent of the Sunday School.

His pastimes include canoeing, playing the organ, singing in the church choir, and enjoying baseball.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Henry K. Voigt, Charles C. Darby, Richard M. Farmer, Kimber L. Shoop, Vice-President, Ralph F. Sidwell, President

The Board of the New Castle Special School District was increased to five members in the election held in 1965. The new members added were Mr. Richard Farmer and Mr. Charles Darby. The Board opened the new school year with a dinner for the faculty at the Cavaliers Country Club on October 21.

FACULTY THEN . . .

The High School Faculty picture to the left was taken from a 1950 Penn Quill. Of this twenty-seven member faculty, seven are still teaching here. The faculty has now increased to sixty-nine teachers. Of these, the fifteen teachers pictured below have served here twelve years or more. This long and comparatively slow change is a strong indication of the high quality of the teachers and the school's harmonious atmosphere.

As we leave William Penn High School, we take with us the traditions and heritage of a building that has previously graduated 34 Senior Classes. The Class of 1966, the last Seniors to graduate from this building, combined both talent and school spirit in an attempt to make 1966 the greatest year at this building. We set the pace of this year's events by sponsoring the senior play and the dinner-dance and concluded our activities with the prom, the social highlight of the year. The climactic moment arrives when, with both joy and sorrow, we proudly march down the aisle on graduation night.

Profit again should hardly draw me here.

For a moment pause and linger, Prithee find my index finger.

Though this be madness, yet there is method in it!

Eye of newt and toe of frog,
Call of goat and tongue of dog.
Mix this all in one big bunch
For the ingredients of our lunch.

Double, double, toil and trouble,
Muffins burn and cookies bubble.

Again to be aweary of the sun.

Thou art one another like the other.

Methought I heard a voice cry,
"Sleep no more! Moffett does murder sleep!"

THE PENN QUILL

WILLIAM PENN SCHOOL NEW CASTLE, DELAWARE

PENN QUILL

The Penn Quill, the official publication of the William Penn High School, is a member of the National Scholastic Press Association. During the school year of 1934 four issues were printed. Since then the paper has been published either semi-annually or annually in the form of a commencement number. Money for the publication is raised chiefly through subscription and advertising.

For the present year, 1938 and 1939, the plans are to issue the Penn Quill in the form of an annual. This will include pictures of the faculty, the senior class, and various school activities; articles about various school activities; schedules for athletics, and other features.

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMEN

In September, 1935, sixty-two young, eager pupils entered their first year of high school. Looking ahead, it seemed a long time before we would become seniors.

The sophomores looked upon us as "little children" and henpecked us to the limit. A few of us were initiated to the satisfaction of the "Sophs".

The class was divided into two sections. The girls had Miss Crothers as their class adviser and the boys had Mr. Wilson as their adviser. During this year, twelve dropped out. Our social events consisted of a Halloween party and a Christmas party.

Mrs. MARIAN K. TOBIN
Class Sponsor

EULA BLACKBURN
Girl Rovers (3); Keating Club (2); Class Treasurer (2); Noble Club (3, 4).
Eula is another of the more quiet members of our class. She is cheerfully ready to help in the activities of the school. Her hobbies are needlework, crocheting, and reading.

WARREN CONNOR
Football (2); Class Play (3, 4); H.V. President (1); Basket Ball Manager (4).
"Gee" is interested mainly in making, sailing, and golf. Any moonlight night you may find him sailing across the Delaware with the wind whistling through the sails and his heart a-battering in the boom. He keeps in training for these strenuous nights by working for Western Union.

ALVIN BOWEN
Basketball (2, 3, 4); Football (1, 2, 3, 4); Baseball (1, 2, 3); Track (3, 4).
"Sparky" comes from a family of true sportsmen. He has made an enviable record in all fields of sport. His occasional hot-headed outbursts have not kept him from playing a good, steady game.

GEORGE W. DAVIS
Football (4); Senior Play (4).
Basketball (4).
George, in his own year at William Penn School has had time to excel in the Senior Play, to be on the football squad and the basketball team, and to lend a hand in other class activities. His good nature is a good companion anyone.

JOHN CARROW
Basketball (4); H.V. Club (4); Vice President Honor Society (4).
Jack has a lot of ambition, always has his work done, and has a fine academic record. He is a full of fun and ready with some dry remark of humor. He came to us from St. George's for his senior year at William Penn.

CLAYTON DERRICKSON
Play Cast (4); Musical (2, 3); Gym Exhibition (4); Secretary H.V. Club (4).
We don't want to forget Clayton's downcast countenance and his ever present willingness to find something to argue about. His interests have been both academic and extra-curricular. He should be a success in college and in later life.

EDWIN CLINTON
Football (2, 3, 4); Musical (3); Class Leader (3, 4); Play Cast (3, 4); Penn Quill Staff (4); Treasurer H.V. Club (4).
A "shadow" who does dart up at most unexpected times, who can ask humorous questions and who likes to wear flashy clothes. His size does not limit his energy; he likes to be doing things in school service.

JEANNETTE DU ROSS
Penn Quill Staff (4); Basket Ball (1, 2); Dramatic Club (1); May Day (4).
Although "Dut" did not begin her high school career at William Penn, she has made her presence felt in many of our school activities since she has been with us. Her willing cooperation, pleasing smile, and friendly personality have won her many friends among her classmates and teachers.

EDITH EVANS
Glee Club (2, 3, 4); May Day Amusement (2, 3, 4); Play Cast (3, 4); Penn Quill Staff (1).
"Edie's" winning smile and twinkling eyes catch your glance in almost any place. She stands out in our class as one who is always willing to help. She has one of the most pleasing personalities in our school.

SENIOR DINNER DANCE

The Senior Dinner Dance, the first major social event of the year, was held on November 6, 1965, at the Cavalier's Country Club. The evening began with an enjoyable steak dinner followed by dancing to the music of the University of Delaware "Sophistimates." The lively atmosphere of this year's dance reflected the participants' enthusiasm. The band played its last selection at eleven o'clock.

FOOTBALL

Coaches Wood, Cole, and Conner

The mighty Colonials enjoyed a strong season in 1965. Under the leadership of Co-Captains Ron Proffitt and Bruce Reynolds, who was elected to the All-State team, and the guidance of Coaches Cole, Wood, and Conner, the team exhibited determination and the will to win throughout a hard-fought season. A late-season loss to Brandywine dropped William Penn from a three-way tie for first place in the Blue Hen Conference. This disappointment did not affect team morale, and the team ended their schedule with high spirits and a 7-2 record.

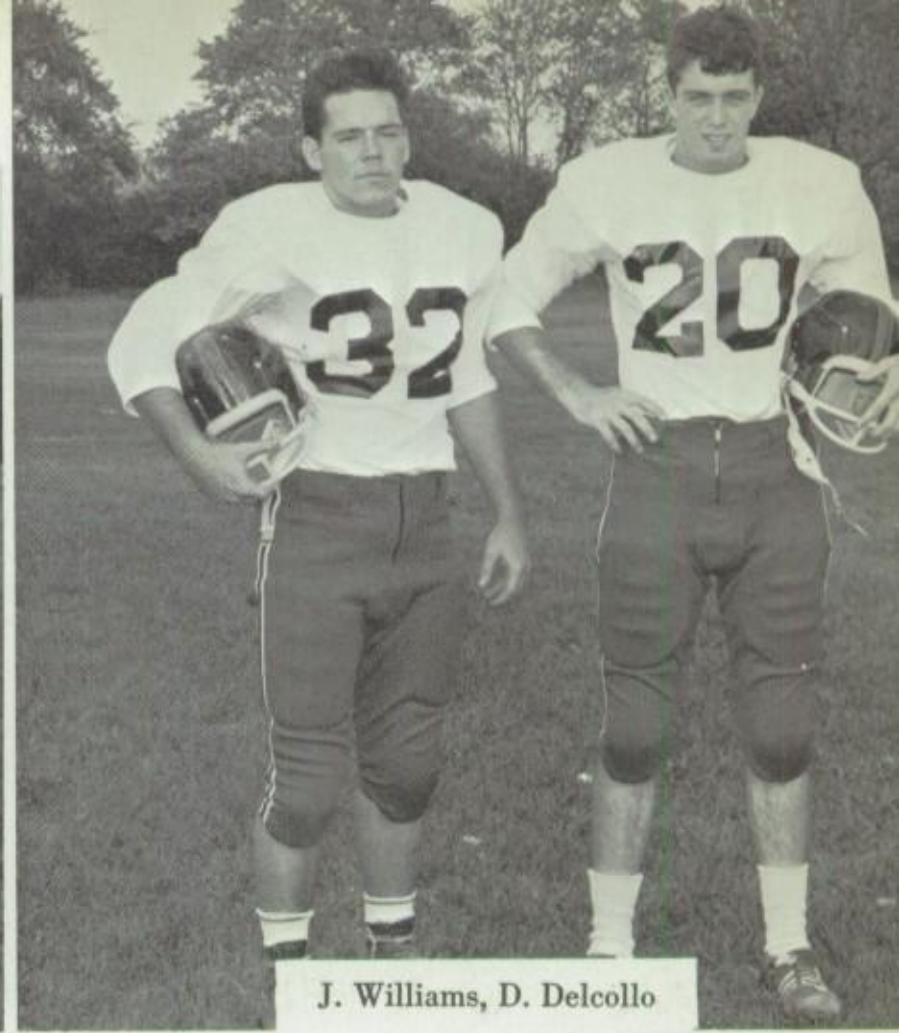

The Colonials finished the season in second place behind tied Newark and Wilmington. Though William Penn did not capture the Conference championship, the team's effort made the season rewarding to everyone.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Although the boys' basketball team did not win the Blue Hen Conference Championship, it fought hard throughout the season. Under the capable direction of Mr. Kutch and captains Bruce Reynolds and Ron Mitchell, the team played many spirited games.

BOTTOM ROW: D. Anthony, J. Billings.
SECOND ROW: H. Beatson, S. Moody.

WRESTLING

Although they failed to retain the Blue Hen Conference Championship, the Colonial matmen enjoyed completing their season with a firm hold on second place. By losing to their traditional rival, De La Warr, the team ended their winning streak of twenty-nine matches. Coached by Mr. Otis Chapman and Mr. Larry Gocella and led by Co-captains Joe Shetzler and Bill Muckle, and matmen retained their "Miracle Worker" spirit and despite early season disappointments, finished the season strongly.

Under the direction of Miss Grace Harrison and Miss Deborah Lindenmuth, the Girls' Leader Corps has sold football programs and pompoms, served oranges to the hockey and basketball teams, sponsored Co-Rec nights, and assisted in girls' physical education classes. This service organization has tried to fulfill its goals of developing leadership qualities and encouraging school spirit and good sportsmanship.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Headed by President Bruce Reynolds, Vice-President Don Goff, Secretary Barbara Wesley, and Treasurer Larry Williams, the Student Council continued to fill their important position in student life. With the help of advisor Delvin Burns, they sponsored many student functions, including an A.F.S. candy sale, dances, and a "slave day."

WINTER-1966

HI-Y

The William Penn Hi-Y through its fine program, helps build the leadership and character necessary for tomorrow's world. The club functions not only to provide recreation for its members, but also to achieve the Hi-Y purpose: "To create, maintain, and extend, throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character."

CLUBS

TRI-HI-Y

Under the guidance of Miss Charlotte Wenger, the girls of William Penn Tri-Hi-Y continue to fill their important place in school and community life. Through their participation in school projects, such as bake sales and a "Gym Suit Clean-Up," they provide service both practical and enjoyable.

JOURNALISM

Under the direction of co-editors Mary Talley and Kathy Sammons and advised by Mrs. Dorothy Cline, the competent staff of the Penn Crier succeeded in producing many interesting issues. One new addition to the staff's equipment that has made for a better publication is the off-set printer.

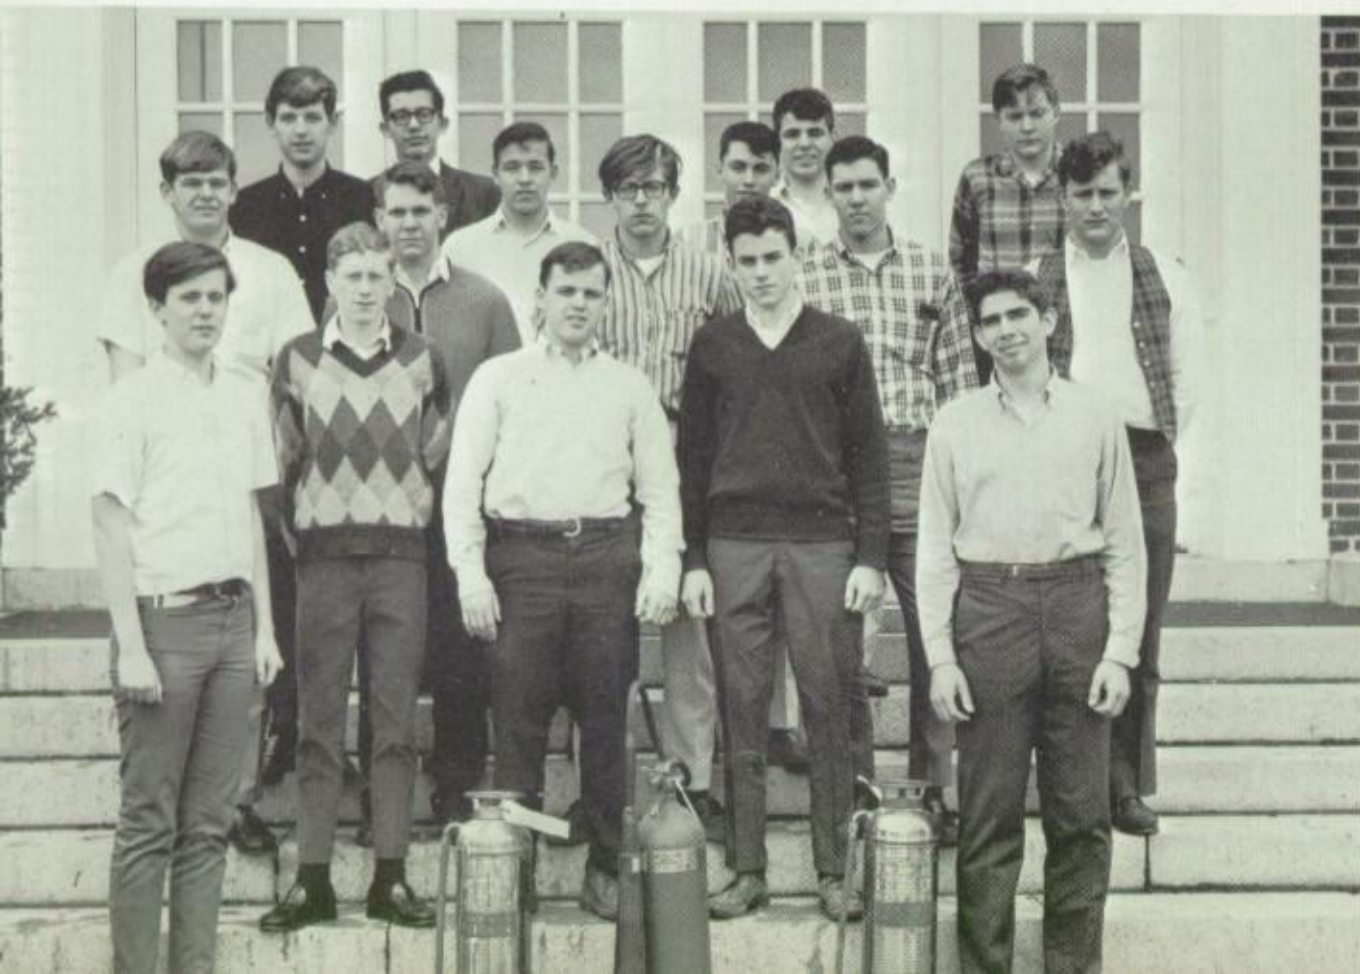

FUTURE NURSES

The girls of the Future Nurses Club, under the direction of Mrs. Miriam Gray, receive experience that will prove helpful when they enter their chosen profession. Their helping Mrs. Gray not only lightens the nurse's burden, but also widens their scope through their experiences.

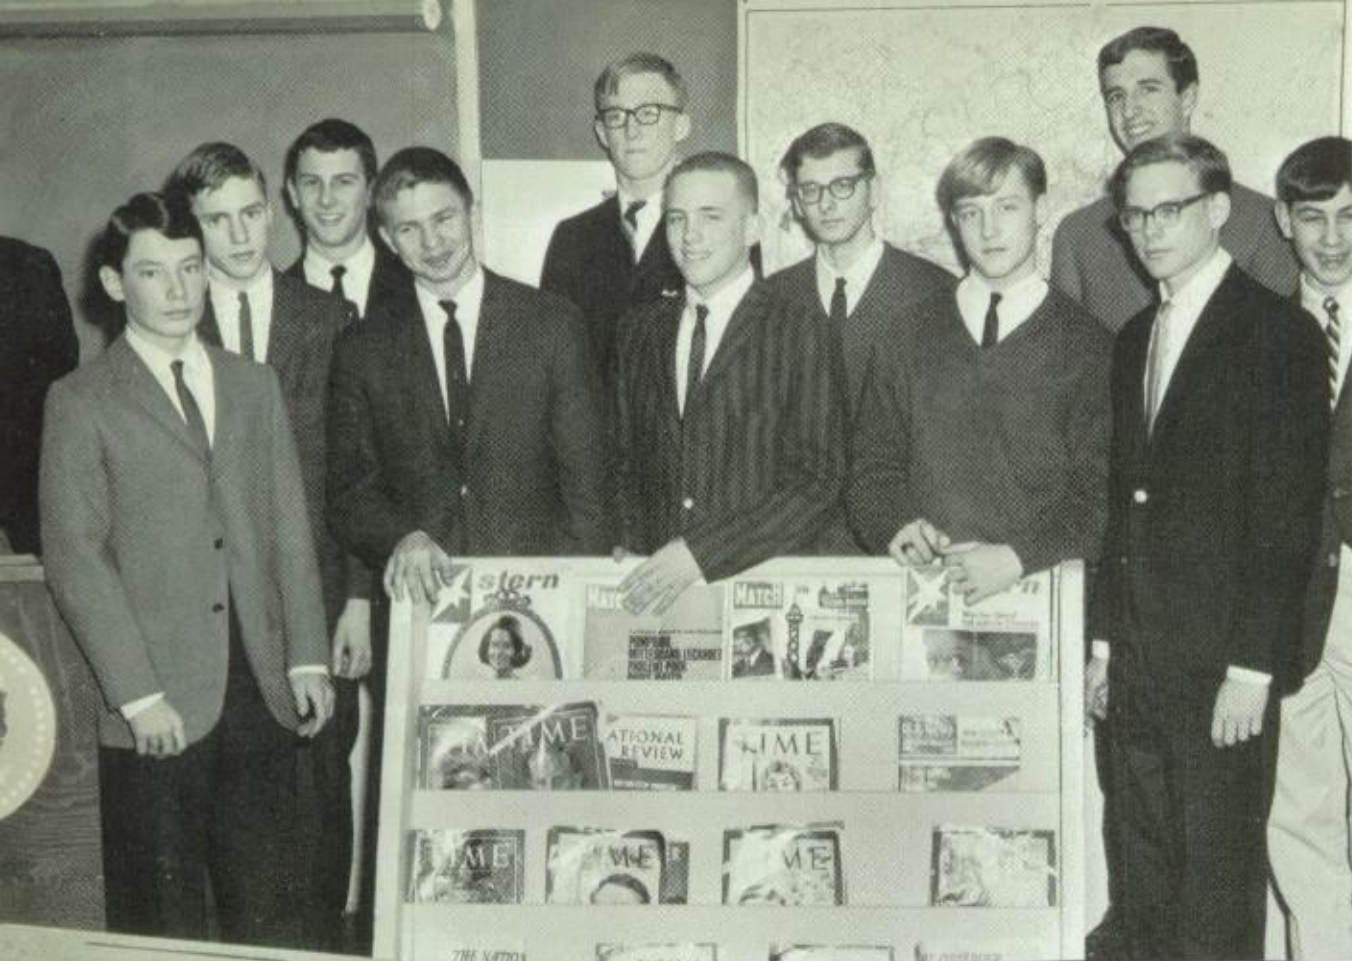

LIBRARY AIDES

The Library Aides Club, through their fine service, helped Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Puffer make our library the fine facility it is today.

FIRE PATROL

Under the direction of Mr. Charles Bleakney, the boys of the Fire Patrol assisted in directing the traffic in the halls and promoting the safety of the students during fire drills.

POLITICAL AFFAIRS CLUB

The members of the Political Affairs Club meet to develop an insight into the current affairs of our complex world. With the help of their advisor, Mr. William Britton, they form the well-rounded political viewpoint good citizenship demands.

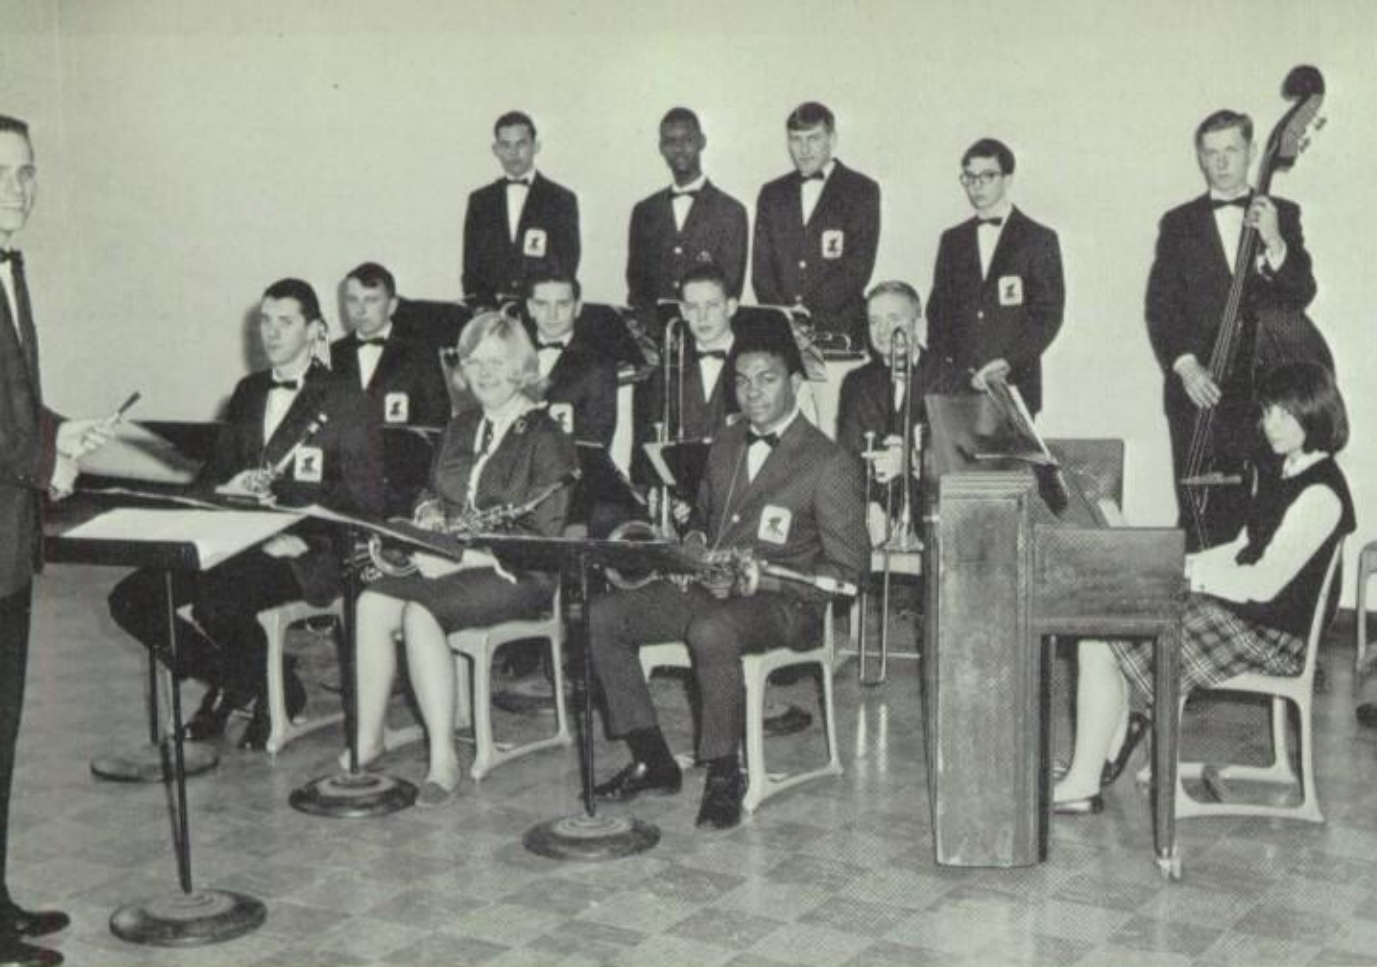

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Club, advised by Mrs. Anna Owens, helps the members achieve the poise and elocution necessary in later life. Their competition with other clubs forms an interesting facet of school life at William Penn.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

By helping teachers with their daily tasks, the Future Teachers Club members prepare for their years as teachers. Under the guidance of Dr. Lupin, they build the talents necessary for successful teaching.

DANCE BAND

The William Penn Dance Band, under the direction of Mr. Wallace Pancoast, brought music to everyone throughout the year. Conducted by Dick Farmer, they performed at the Honor Society's Talent Show and at the Bandbo's Cabaret.

STAGECRAFT

The boys of the Stagecraft Club insured the success of every program at William Penn. From behind the scenes they directed special effects, lighting, and staging. With the direction of their sponsor, Mr. Howard Smith, they performed their important duties perfectly throughout the year.

YE OLDE PENN PLAYERS

William Penn's dramatic organization, Ye Olde Penn Players, continued to fill their place in school life. Under the direction of Mr. Jack Graybeal, they held a bake sale to raise funds, and had an evening of one-act plays. The members also participated in other school-sponsored plays—the Junior play and the Senior play.

SPECTRUM

Headed by editor-in-chief, Stephen Taylor, and advised by Mrs. Marlette Petze and Mrs. Mary Dolson, the Spectrum staff worked diligently and was rewarded by an excellent issue of the school magazine. The magazine, which contains a wide selection of stories and poems by the William Penn students, is partially self-supported by such activities as bake sales.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

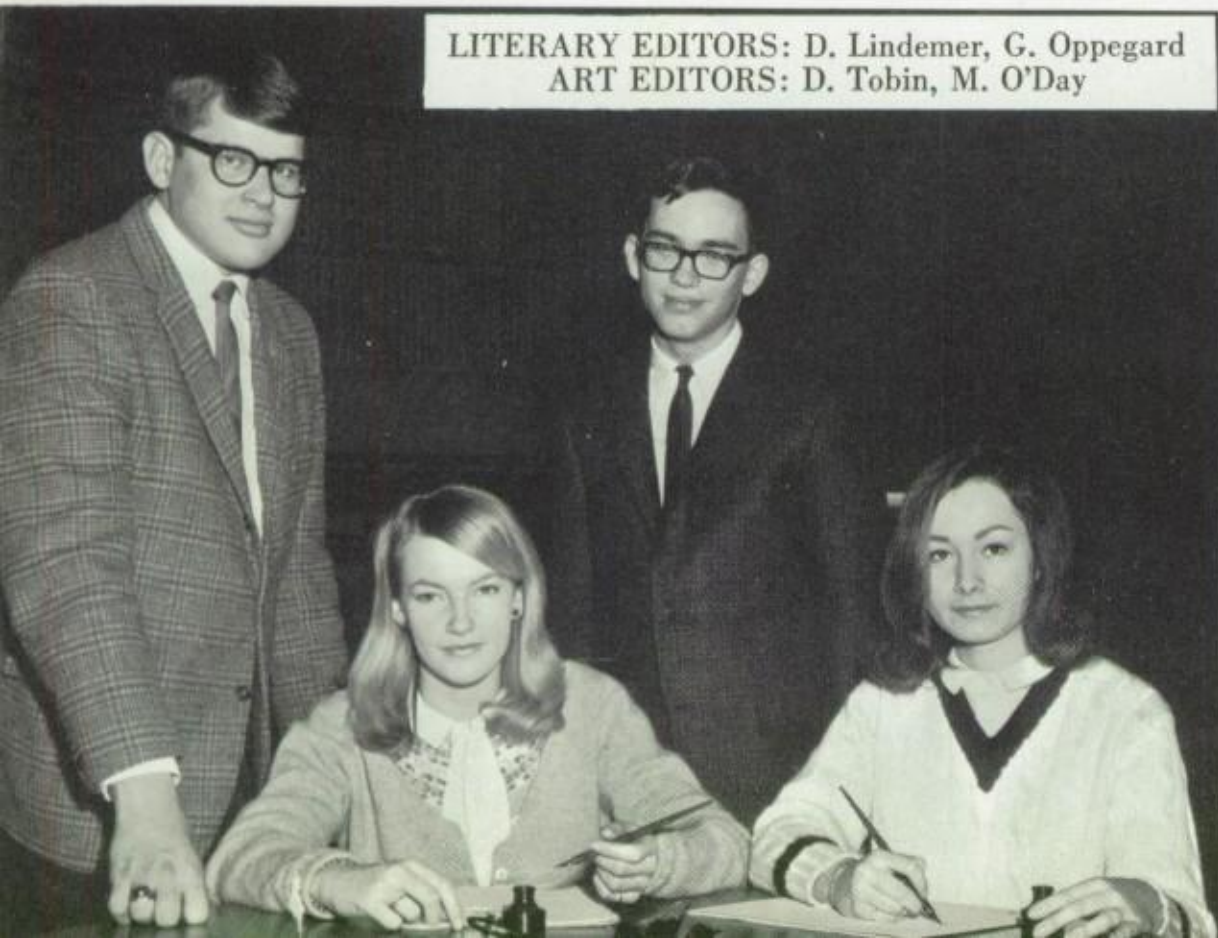

The members of the Distributive Education Program, under the direction of Mr. Fred Gabsewics, have profited from a formal education in the mornings and practical application in the afternoons by maintaining a specified scholastic average. This year, Virginia Vines serves as the State Secretary for the D.E.C.A. program.

SOCIAL LIFE, 1966

FAREWELL

As we wave farewell to William Penn High School for the last time, we will feel moments of regret. We, the last senior class of this building, have here received guidance and experiences which have prepared us for meeting the future more competently. We hope that the future senior classes in the new William Penn High School will carry on the traditions which began when the corner stone of this building was laid in 1930.
